Leaflet number: 940 Version: 2

This scheme sends information about the medicines you have been sent home from hospital with, to the pharmacy who usually gives you your medicines.

Having this information means your pharmacy has an up-to-date record of any:

- changes made to your regular medicines.
- new medicines prescribed / started in hospital.
- medicines the hospital may have stopped.

When you are sent home, a member of the pharmacy hospital team will send the information about your medicines to your chosen pharmacy with your consent. This is sent by an approved secure electronic message.

What happens next?

Your community pharmacy will make sure the record they have is up-to-date with any changes.

Within 7 days of leaving hospital, call or visit your pharmacy. Please take all your medicines in with you when you go. The pharmacist can talk to you about the best way for you to be able to order and manage your medicines at home. They can:

- provide you with information and support about the changes to your medicines.
- answer any questions you may have.
- help you with any problems or issues you may be having with your medicines.

Health information and support is available at www.nhs.uk
