This is reception. I will let the person at the desk know I am here.

This is the waiting room. This is where I will sit until Maddie calls my name.

This is Maddie. She is the orthoptist who is going to play games with me.

This is the clinic room. I will sit in the blue chair to play the games.

Maddie may ask me to put on a pair of glasses or a patch over my glasses.

She will then ask me to tell her pictures or letters on the tv.

Maddie may shine a light into my eyes. It is bright but it will not hurt.

Maddie may show me lots of different toys during the games.

I might need to sit still, like a statue, and watch them move.

Maddie may hold up these magic windows to my eyes.

They feel funny but do not hurt.

Maddie may need to put special drops in my eyes.

They feel strange but my eyes will be okay afterwards.

Once all the games are finished,
Maddie may give me a sticker.

I have now finished my appointment. Now I will
